Original dammit doll pattern

by CraftBits (Shellie Wilson) in Sewing Patterns and Ideas This pattern makes great Dammit dolls for stressful people and even strangled until all the frustration leaves you. What you needCalico or felt wool or doll hair sewing machine sewing machine Instructions Gancar this little poem to go with it: When you want to kick the desk or throw the phone and scream, Here's a little fucking doll you can't do without, just grab it firmly by the legs, and find a place to hit it, and how to hit is filling it Yell, damn it, damn it, damn it, damn it, damn it! It is necessary to create a basic doll shape and cut it from the fabric. Use this pattern: Dammit doll pattern. You will need to resize the pattern to suit your needs. You can use any colored fabric you want, but if you intend to add facial features you will have to keep the light of the fabric. Cut 2 body shapes and sew around the edges. Turn your wrist out and using a pen push out any edge on your hands and legs until everything turns the right side out. Then, using your leg wrist toy filling stuffing up remembering to keep it firm enough for you to write against. Keep filling your wrist until you get to the head, then using some glue or a few hand points near your head. Use your waterproof felt feathers to draw on some facial features and glue on the head. You can add as much or as little detail as you want to your wrist. —Other poems and sayings - Computer Dammit Doll Weird things happen when you get back OR your keyboard just can't spell things don't seem to go well and the computer has a sudden chill So instead of yanking the plug just take this doll and hit it against the monitor as Dammit screams! it! it! Road Rage Dammit Doll In your car while you're going to work The guy across the street is an idiot As he doesn't get out the way you scream: I need to get there today! Then to get more frustration Just grab the doll and hit it on the dashboard while you scream, damn it, damn it! Sports Rage Dammit Doll When the referee has made a bad call AND you want to scream and hit the wall OR a player missed an easy score AND you can't take it anymore, just grab this doll and hit it on TV while screaming and knocking out the stuffing, Damn it! Damn it, damn it! Related This little dammit country doll is a great comfort gift for someone you care about, or an adorable addition to any room in your home. You may remember the damn dolls from the period of of your grandmother and they're still around today. How to make a dammit doll several years ago, I did this for a friend who lived in Germany. Her husband was in the army and he was quite far away. She missed him very much and seemed so sad. He loved the gift and still appreciates it today. Download the doll pattern here Some people are offended offended The cursed word. You can replace dang it or give it if you want. NOTE: Many people have asked me about the high mache cylindrical paper box. I made this doll probably in 1998 or 1999. At that moment, I found the cylinder in Michaels. While it's a great box, if you can't find one, you can easily use a paper box or even a Pringles container, or no box at all. Just print the poem on the card material and tie it to your wrist.:) If you'd rather buy a doll, you can find one here. Below is the poem: DAMMIT DOLL When you want to climb the wall, and stand up and scream. There's a little cursed doll you can't do without. I don't know if you know what a cursed doll is, but I'm finding out that not many people do. To be honest, I didn't do it until this summer. I was in halmark and I saw these voodoo-looking dolls, but with fresh cloth and a cute little poem to follow. These dolls are destined for a moment of frustration so you can get your anger out of something other than the world. My friend has a kind of frustrating life sometimes and I thought a damn doll would be a cute little gift to let her know I cared, unfortunately it's $14.50 online (you can find it anywhere, just google look for it). So I decided to do mine! Here's how I made mine: cut the Dammit doll pattern with any fun fabric you'd like. Here's what I used: Put the right side of the fabric looking and sew together leaving a 1 inch space Turn the fabric out by pushing all the edges out with a toothpick or something long Stuff with filling or bending batting (I made mine as tight as possible) When it's full to the edge, sew the 1-inch space with DECORATE thread- add a tie loop as tight a tie as possible) When it's full on the I used what I had to make it cute Add a poem- The original doll has the poem sewn into the belly. It's just as easy to print the poem and put it on a small card and tie it around your neck, or put it in the box. Here's the poem that makes the dammit doll the dammit doll when you want to go up to the wall and stand right and scream Here's a little Dammit doll You can't do without it firmly by the legs and find a place to hit it and while you hit the stuffing screams Dammit, Dammit! If Dammit is not a word you say then twist her little neck and complain repeatedly Oh heck, oh heck, oh heck, oh heck! And once you're done abusing, feel it on a shelf but hold it first, as I'd hug you if I were there myself... Nice, huh? I love it! Here is a website for a homemade doll that is so cute and the container they put it in is adorable too! I decided to use what I had instead of going out and buying stuff! Note: A damn doll doesn't have to be perfect, so don't worry about your mistakes, they make it unique. In addition, the doll is intended to be beaten and strangled! That's how mine turned out and my friend loved it! So if you have a frustrated friend or if you're frustrated, try a doll! I've been doing some of these for friends and neighbors who are having a frustrating time this winter. He's brought a smile to almost everyone's face! You can buy them on a number of sites on the web, or you can make your own. You can do a Google search for the poem, too, although I've included it at the end of this post to make it more convenient. This one's for my sister, she asked for a red one! Print the above pattern. There is a test square of 1 so you can adjust your printer, but it doesn't matter that much. Dolls can be any size. If you usually sew a lot, the pattern is probably all you need. If you want to see how I do the hair, it shows up at the end of the post. Anchor your pattern and cut with scissors. I'm a fan of rotary cutters, but not when the curves are so tight! All cut. Transfer the marks to the top of the arm so that it does not sew there. it! I forgot to sew on my face before I started sewing! It is easier to sew your eyes and mouth before sewing the wrist together. You can do it later, no worries, but it's easier when you don't have to bury the knot. Set the stitch length to 1.5 (or any small stitch length on your machine). Makes it easier to sew around curves gently. Sew all the way around the wrist and cut the seams. You can see the small clips at the inner seams. Trim everywhere there is such a rounded inner seam seams are softer when finished filling. I also trimoré very close to the outer curved seams (you can see how close I cut the seam around the head.) Turn right out. I use a tube to help turn it to the right side, but using a spike or the end of a pencil eraser works well, too. Things! I use some cop stuffing, but you can disassemble an old stuffed animal and re-use the filling, or use pieces of duvet batting. The photos I took of sewing the open seam were terrible! I am sorry. Do the neatest work you can sew the seam. Now for the Hair Wrap about 10 fun fur wraps of the lion brand (or any thread you have in your stash) around your hand. The more open your hand is, the longer the 'hair' strands you'll have. Slide the thread out of your hand and use your sewing machine on a straight stitch to sew through half your thread. I'm sorry for the diffuse photo, if you look closely you can see the white sewing line that passes through the thread to secure it. Hand-sew hair in place along the sewing line on the thread. This isn't a wonderfully fantastic doll, it's supposed to be hit! Don't worry about perfection in this! Sometimes he trims my hair, sometimes I don't. This doll's hair was so weird and long that I trimmed it to make it look better. The Poem Tag Crumple Crumple a piece of paper bag. Iron it flat, but not too flat. Print the poem, strued around the edges (the poem with a thin layer of rubber cement and let it dry. Then put the poem in the rubber cement. Rub the extra rubber cement from the brown paper bag. Rip near the edges of the poem, drill a hole, add some string, and the label is done! Click the photo, and then download and print. I took more time to take the pictures and write the post that made it to make the doll. It's a pretty quick project. Honestly, I hope you don't need it! And no one you know needs one! But just in case, it's a quick and fun project. Venta-Preis 6.24 euros 6.24 euros 6.93 euros Urspr-nglicher Preis 6.93 euros (10% Rabatt) Rabatt)
