Apricot power b17 capsules

Vitamin B17, also known as amygdaline, is a substance found naturally in over 1,200 different foods, including seeds of many fruits (such as apricots, plums, cherries, oranges, nectarines, apples and peaches) and many different raw nuts. Our natural vitamin B17 supplement is extracted from apricot seeds. Vitamin B-17 was a biochemist by Ernst T Krebs in 1952. A synthetic form of vitamin B17 is called a laetrile and although it is chemically similar to vitamin B17, they are two different compounds. Why is vitamin B17 important? A balanced diet is essential for a healthy life, and few of us consume enough vitamins and minerals in the foods we eat. Vitamin B17 contains powerful immunity-enhancing properties to strengthen the body's natural protection. Sign up for autoship and get free shipping for each order!
