The main characters are the most important characters in the story. There are two types that may exist for each couple. Hero – this is the protagal, around which the whole story revolves around. Decisions made by this character will be influenced by conflict from within, or externally, through another personality, nature, technology, society, or destiny/God. Most of the time, something external causes problems. A group of people who cause conflict were considered community, maybe members of a team, community or institution. In addition, an antagonist can be part of nature, such as an animal, weather, a mountain or lake. Another type of antagonist will be an item such as pen, car, phone, carpet, etc. These are all technology, because they are tools or tools to complete a job.
