Guardian fsd booster cost

Comments Share Guardian Frame Shift Drive Booster icon Used to increase the output of Frame Shift Drives, increasing light-year jump distance. — Description Of 2017-2017, an internal module is derived from Guardian technology. That gives a flat increase to a ship's total jump area as determined by Frame Shift Drive. To buy the Guardian Frame Shift Drive Booster, it must first be unlocked through a technology broker. Unlocking The Guardian Frame Shift Drive Booster can be unlocked permanently for purchase by providing the following materials to a Guardian Technology Broker: Specifications Guardian researched module that patches into most human frame shift stations, increases their capabilities and provides an increase in power and distance. Fuel efficiency for frame shifts has been improved, increasing the distance travelled per fuel unit and enabling single jumps of larger size. — Extra in-game Description Class rating Mass (T) Integrity Power Draw (MW) Jump Range Increase (LY) Value (CR) 1 H 1.30 32 0.75 4.00 394.8 96 2 T 1.30 32 0.98 6.00 790 257 3 H 1.30 32 1.27 7.7 1,579,920 4 T 1.30 32 1.65 9.25 3,163,887 5 H 1.30 2 32 2.14 10.50 6,321,023 Places of purchase The Guardian Frame Shift Drive Booster is available for purchase at all stations where a Guardian Technology Broker is present after module is unlocked. Players who had already unlocked it through Technology Broker received a refund of materials. This was later fixed and the module was added again in update 3.1 on June 28, 2018, but with the fuel consumption factor removed and the jumping area increases slightly. You can only have one of these modules installed per shipment. Each module has a small mass and uses extra power. DMG = damage, DPS = damage per second, ROF = Fire speed, T. load = Thermal load, P. speed = Projectile speed, AP = Armor piercing. « Back to internal equipment To post comments, you must register and log in. Elite Dangerous &gt; General Discussions &gt; Topic Details Guardian FSD booster is the best ever. Because of this module I am now able to use my federal Corvette as an actual ship instead of a fun thing to play around in when I got to one I had it stationed in the system. I now have a 33 light-year jump range instead of a 16 light-year jump range on a fully loaded combat Corvette. I can't believe how much better this is after combining it with a constructed FSD and lower weight equipment. But I also like how it is a fairly balanced module. It took me a few hours of grinding to get it and countless hours of grinding to all my things. So for all the good it costs a lot of time. TI: Dr Guardians is awesome. And I am now able to use more of my ships more often without having them feel boring. What are your opinions? Do you love it or think you don't need it? Guardian technology you have to unlock with technology broker and you need various Guardianzeugs to do this FSD Boost Class 5 now built into my Exploring-Ana and thus cracked 80Ly (for standard explorer loadout incl. 2 SRV). (01.07.2018, 16:05) Ulliversum wrote: Has now installed FSD Boost Class 5 in my Exploring Ana and thus cracked 80Ly (with standard explorer loadout incl. 2 SRV). However, believe that the solution 10.5ly calculates on it, that is, if you use neutron boost is normal multiplication plus booster separat #8 01.07.2018, 21:46 (This post was last edited: July 1, 2018, 21:46 by Amazing Blyatman.) Correct... booster gives a fixed value on the existing fsd ... neutron boost is a percentage increase in the base area ... the higher the base the more boost ... ipso facto... expecto patonum ... Okay, I unlocked the FSD booster. The question is how or where do I get FSD Booster Class 5??? Right where you unlocked it? LHS 3564 Froude Enterprise in distress, located right next to maridal.
