Ash 2020 meeting

Coverage of this year's conference. Learn about possible practice changing tests and get perspective from key opinion leaders who make important conclusions in context. The Presidential Advisory Council on Combating Antibiotic-Resistant Bacteria (Advisory Council) will meet at least twice per year in Washington, D.C. Meetings are usually two days in length and cover the most recent and pressing topics surrounding antibiotic resistance in the country. All agenda items are subject to change as needed. Important Information: All agenda times are approximate and will be adjusted as needed during the meeting. Meetings are open to the public, however, require pre-registration for both public attendance and comment; Most meetings will also be available to participate via live webcast. All in-person attendees are requested to arrive at least 15 minutes before the meeting begins to clean up the security process; Due to fire code restrictions, if the capacity of the room is exceeded, in-person registration will cease. For meetings located at HHS headquarters, you will need your driver's license such as photo ID for admission. Non-U.S. citizens must provide additional information at least 10 days in advance to attend public meetings. View the online registration form or contact the Advisory Council for details. All in-person attendees should sign-in at the desk located in the lobby behind the security desk; A staff member will be there to help you. All meeting documents including agenda will be posted on public meeting webpage as soon as they are available. We are no longer providing hardcopies of all meeting content on the site. We will only provide a hardcopy of the final agenda and public comments. Public questions and comments can be made by emailing CARB@HHS.gov. Background content for meetings will be available electronically to registered attendees, and will be posted on the upcoming meetings page. Location and Map Hubert H.
