Launch dolphin emulator. Click on the graphics icon/logo at the top (looks like a computer monitor). A menu will pop up. Click on the Hacks tab. Below 'External Frame Buffer (XFB)', 'Store XFB copies unal the box for texture only'. Click the Close button at the bottom right to exit the menu. Reboot Dolphin. 2. Set iso directory If you haven't done yet, you need to set the default game directory for Dolphin. In the large empty menu, you'll see.. Quote: Dolphins can't find any GameCube/Wii ISOs or WADs. Double click here to set up a game directory. | Just double click anywhere inside the large area. Pop up a menu, navigate and folder that you can use to create ISO/FOLDERS. Click Select, then the empty area will be filled with your list of ISO. 3. Click cheats right on the ISO you want to apply cheats. A small drop down menu will appear. Click properties. Another menu will appear. Click on the Gecko Code tab. At the bottom left, click the Add Code button. For the name, fill in the OFC code name. For the manufacturer, put in the creator of the code, put itself in the actual cheat code. Click Save, and you will see the code is added to the top box. This code name will be displayed through the code you gave, and the checkmark will be performed. To add another code, just click on the Add Code button again and repeat the process. Click Close. Then launch the ISO. Codes are applied. Congratz! Note: To see the contents of the code after adding it, just click on the code name itself. It will be highlighted in blue and the content will be shown in the lower box. To not use a certain code, click the checkmark from the box. To delete a code Click on the name. It will highlight in blue, click on the remove code button. Click the Edit button to edit the code instead. (05-28-2019, 06:37 06:37 Written: [->] How to apply cheat codes in Dolphin Emulator 1. Details are here: Thanks for your link because it provides a good view for new people. About code download: It will only download the code from the Lizard site doesn't even come close to Mkwii, com because there aren't about 80% of mkvi codes. Some codes on the lizard site do not work at all. And there's no code that comes with their source. Note: The following codes only work if used with softmoded WII running Gecko OS (or compatible Homebru application). These codes will not work without a compatible application.
