She was known for her constantly grumpy appearance, which was caused by unbeaten and feline dwarfism. She became famous when Brian Bundesen, brother of its owner Tabata Bundesen, posted a photo of her on the social news site Reddit on September 22, 2012. Lolcats and parodies created in photos by Reddit users have become popular. She became the subject of a popular internet meme in which humorously negative, cynical images were taken from her photos. Von Tardar Sauce was one of a litter of four kittens born to Kaliko's mother and a blue-and-white tabby, a calculated father at the home of its owner, Tabata Bundesen of Morristown, Arizona. The Bundesency said Tardar Seys' face looked grumpy because the feline had a form of dwarfism. Although the mother and father were described as homemade short-haired cats of normal size, Tardar Sauce was small and had hind legs that were a little different. Both she and her brother, Poki, were born with flat face, bubble eyes and short tail. Although it had a grumpy appearance and was called Grumpy Cat, according to the Bundesense, ninety-nine percent of the time she's just an ordinary cat. Meme Manager Ben Lashes represented Grumpy Cat, in addition to The Cat keyboard and Nyan Cat. In 2013, Tabata Bundesen took time off from working at Red Lobster to manage the Grumpy Cat schedule, while her brother Brian Bundesen runs the Grumpy Cat website, Facebook, YouTube and Twitter accounts. As of August 23, 2020, Grumpy Cat had 8.3 million Facebook likes, 2.6 million Instagram followers with 1.5 million Twitter followers and 283,000 YouTube followers. Since her debut in 2012, Grumpy Cat has made many media appearances, usually accompanied by its owner, Tabata Bundesen; Tabata's brother, Brian Bundesen; and sometimes Tabata's daughter, Crystal. Grumpy Cat handlers were interviewed by the respective hosts of each program.
