Real life clermont covid testing

If you are sick and have symptoms of coronavirus and you think you need a test, call your doctor. In most cases, you need an order from a doctor to be tested. If you do not have a primary care physician, you can call your nearest Acute Care facility. Most of the sites below offer diagnostic tests for COVID-19. Diagnostic tests will tell you if you currently have viruses. Diagnostic tests will not tell you if you had viruses in the past. Some sites may offer antibody (serology) testing. Antibody testing can tell you if you have had the virus in the past and are not for the diagnosis of a current infection. This list is not inclusive of sites that offer COVID-19 tests, but includes the sites in and near Clermont County. This list is not an endorsement of any of the test facilities. You should contact each facility at some point to confirm the test features and procedures. * If you would like your facility added to this list, please contact us with information at ccphl@clermontcountyohio.gov HealthSource of Ohio HealthSource of Ohio operates community testing centers in Clermont, Adams, Brown, Clinton, and Warren counties. The tests are managed at no cost to the individual, but you will be asked for your insurance information during the registration process. You must call 513-732-5086 to register before you are tested. You do not need to be a resident of the county where you are being tested. Testing is available at the following locations and times (Call 513-732-5086 to register). Counselling Persons over 65 years of age or with underlying medical conditions are strongly encouraged to avoid crowds and take measures to limit the risk of exposure to COVID-19. All persons working in long-term care facilities should be routinely tested for COVID-19. All people in Florida are urged to avoid gathering in groups larger than 50. Further information on phases 1 and 2 can be found in the Governor's slideshow at . Thank you for continuing to be champions for slowing the spread of COVID-19 while we thoughtfully reopen our city and state. . City Manager Darren Gray City of Clermont Waiving Permit Fees for Restaurants Adding Outdoor Seating in May CLERMONT (May 6, 2020) - The City of Clermont waives permit fees for restaurants adding temporary outdoor seating during the COVID-19 pandemic in May. As a business-friendly city, our restaurants can add temporary outdoor seating options without having to worry about a permit fee during this challenging time. City Manager Darren Gray said. We encourage restaurants to follow guidelines from the governor and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to keep employees and patrons safe as they reopen for low-capacity dining. Businesses interested in adding outdoor seating of any kind should submit the following information to the City of Clermont's Building Services Department at inspection@clermonntfl.org: Site plan shows the location of outdoor seating Size tent (if applicable) Number of parking spaces to be used for outdoor seating Number of tables and number of chairs Questions can be directed to allow staff of 352-241-7315. Governor DeSantis's executive order detailing phase 1 of reopening Florida took effect May 4. It states that restaurants can offer outdoor seating with 6 meters of space between tables and indoor seating at 25% capacity. Retail can operate with 25% of indoor capacity. Bars, gyms and personal services such as hairdressers remain closed for services and can continue to sell retail products. Vulnerable persons (persons over 65 years of age and those with serious medical conditions) should avoid close contact with persons outside the Home. Face masks are recommended for all face-to-face interactions and where you can't social distance. A list of faq in phase 1 contains useful information (. In addition, the governor's slideshow presentation on Stage 1 provides additional insight (. A message from Clermont Mayor Gail Ash: Phase 1 of reopening begins CLERMONT (May 4, 2020) - Clermont Mayor Gail Ash would like to share the following message: Dear Clermont community, We would like to update you on reopening plans that take effect in our state, county and city. We understand the excitement around the reopening of shops, restaurants and parks, as well as the need for our economy to start recovering. However, we encourage you to exercise caution and follow the guidelines of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, including practicing social distancing and wearing a cloth face covering in public. It is important that together we continue to slow the spread of coronavirus (COVID-19), which has taken the lives of at least 13 Lake County residents and over 67,600 Americans. Here's a closer look at reopening plans for Florida, Lake County and Clermont. Florida Beginning Phase 1 Phase 1 of Gov. Ron DeSantis's plan to reopen Florida took effect today, following the expiration of his stay-at-home order. The governor announced his plan in his April 29 executive order (. The plan to reopen Florida focuses on protecting the vulnerable, increasing testing, promoting social distancing, supporting hospitals and protecting health care workers, as well as preventing more cases from being introduced from outside the state. The plan also ultimately supports reaching the highest practicable level of business operation while maintaining public health and safety so that all Floridians can return to work at a later stage and the economy can recover. Phase 1 parameters include: Schools remain distance learning. Visits to senior accommodations are prohibited. Elective surgeries can be resumed. Restaurants can offer outdoor seating with 6 meters of space between tables and indoor seating at 25% capacity. Retail can operate with 25% of indoor capacity. Bars, gyms and personal services such as hairdressers remain closed for services and can continue to sell retail products. Phase 1 also provides the following warnings: Vulnerable people (people over 65 years of age and people with serious underlying medical conditions) should avoid close contact with people outside the home. All individuals, when they are in public, should maximize physical distance from others. Avoid socializing in groups of more than 10 under there is no physical distancing. Face masks are recommended for all those in face-to-face interactions and where you can't social distance. The governor stated that Phase 1 does not need to take months, and the decision to move on to the next stage will be based on key health metrics and guided by medical authorities. A list of faq in phase 1 contains useful information (. In addition, the governor's slideshow presentation on Stage 1 provides additional insight (. The governor also announced that Florida State Parks reopened today with limited access (. Lake County announces additional guidance May 1, the Lake County government announced additional COVID-19 protocol guidance in support of the governor's reopening Florida order (. Here are some important takeaways: The vulnerable (those 65 years or older and those with underlying medical conditions) are strongly encouraged to stay at home and to take all measures to limit their risk of exposure to COVID-19. Employers are encouraged to allow workers to work remotely if they are able to do so, especially the vulnerable. Employees and patrons of undertakings must remain at least 6 metres apart; companies must limit their occupancy to do this and must send signs reminders. If possible, touchless hand disinfection stations will be provided. Groups of people over 10 are not allowed to gather in any room that does not easily allow for appropriate social distancing. All sailors using Lake County waterways must comply with the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission's order requiring no more than 10 people per vessel and that at least 50 feet be maintained between vessels. Religious services are considered essential activities. If seniors and individuals with underlying health conditions choose to attend religious services, they are advised they put themselves at risk for COVID-19. Clermont reopens Select Facilities Under the Council and my leadership, City Manager Darren Gray has devised a step-by-step city plan based on the governor's plan to reopen Florida. Here is Phase 1 of our plan regarding urban services and buildings, as announced on April 29 press release (: All city services currently provided will continue online and by phone, including authorization and inspections. We will continue to answer questions and serve the public on the city's main line at 352-394-4081 from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday to Friday. City council meetings will continue to be held via Zoom and broadcast live on the city's YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/CityOfClermontGovernment. The public has several opportunities to participate. The boat ramp and all the city parks with selected facilities reopened May 1. Park is from sunrise to sunset. All tennis courts and Champions Pointe Disc Golf Course Park are the only sports spots to open. Rangers and police officers will patrol these areas to ensure that the public follows guidelines from the governor and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), including practicing social distancing (staying at least 6 feet apart from others) and not congregating in groups of more than 10 people. All public toilets remain closed until further notice. The beach at Waterfront Park remains closed, as well as Champions Splash Park, playgrounds, basketball courts, shuffleboard courts, ball courts and pavilions. All other city facilities also will remain closed to the public until further notice, including City Hall, Clermont City Center and the Clermont Arts and Recreation Center, including the Aquatics Center and the Clermont Performing Arts Center. We have also begun to implement a cautious approach to bring back employees who are still working remotely or on standby. Employees who have to report to work are told to continue with social distancing, wearing masks when interacting with the public or as it felt necessary between colleagues and disinfecting and cleaning work areas. Our staff has worked hard to keep the city services running smoothly. We have been diligently communicating with local, state and federal authorities, taking all possible precautions, and educating the public on our COVID-19 webpage, www.ClermontFL.gov/coronavirus, as well as on the city's Facebook page, www.Facebook.com/CityOfClermont, and on our new Nextdoor app. We rely on our residents, businesses, staff and visitors to help make phase 1 of reopening a success. We ask that you continue to be campaigners to slow the spread of this terrible virus while we cautiously transition to a new future. Remember, we're here to serve you. Do not hesitate to contact us. - Mayor Gail Ash Clermont Mayor announces Boat Ramp and Parks will reopen May 1 CLERMONT (April 29, 2020) - Clermont Mayor Gail Ash would like to share the following message: Hello to our Clermont community, We hope you stay healthy in these challenging times. We're in week four of the governor's stay-at-home order, which expires Tors., April 30. After careful consideration and discussion with City Manager Darren Gray, we have decided to reopen the city's boat ramp and all city parks with selected facilities starting Fri., May 1. Tennis courts will be the only sports courts to reopen at this time. Park hours will be from sunrise to sunset. Park rangers and police officers will patrol these areas to ensure that the public follows guidelines from the governor and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), including practicing social distancing (staying at least 6 feet apart from others) and not congregating in groups of more than 10 people. All public toilets will remain for now. The beach at Waterfront Park will closed, as well as Champions Splash Park, playgrounds, basketball courts, shuffleboard courts, ball courts and pavilions. All other city facilities also will remain closed until further notice, such as City Hall, Clermont City Center and the Clermont Arts and Recreation Center, including the Aquatics Center and the Clermont Performing Arts Center. Our employees have worked hard to keep the city's services running smoothly online and by phone. We continue to answer questions about the city's main line at 352-394-4081 from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday to Friday. The city council meetings will continue to be broadcast live on the city's YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/CityOfClermontGovernment. We have been diligently communicating with local and state authorities, taking all possible precautions, and educating the public on our COVID-19 website, www.ClermontFL.gov/coronavirus, as well as on the city's Facebook page, www.Facebook.com/CityOfClermont, and on our new Nextdoor app page. It's a strange time for all of us, but together we're going to get through this. We ask that our community members continue to be advocates to slow the spread of this terrible disease, which has taken the lives of at least 10 Lake County residents and over 58,500 Americans. We ask everyone to do their part by staying at home whenever possible. When you go out, we encourage you to follow CDC guidelines, including wearing a cloth face covering and practicing social distancing. We are proud of our employees, residents, businesses and communities for being champions and for stepping up to help each other during this difficult time. Remember, we're here to serve you. Do not hesitate to contact us. - Mayor Gail Ash This press release can be found on . City of Clermont Announces Closure of All City Facilities After the Governor's Stay-At-Home Order City Services Continue Online and by Phone CLERMONT (April 3, 2020) - All City of Clermont facilities are closed through the end of the month. Closures include all the city buildings, parks, beaches and toilets, as well as the boat ramp. The city made the decision after Governor Ron DeSantis's executive stay-at-home order April 1, effective April 3-30, unless extended; the governor allows cities to become stricter. The City of Clermont is taking these measures out of an abundance of caution to help slow the spread of coronavirus (COVID-19), City Manager Darren Gray said. This is for the safety and well-being of our residents, staff and the community, and especially to protect those who are most vulnerable - the elderly and those with chronic illness. The city's paths remain open. We urge our skilled residents to continue to remain active while practicing social distancing, Mayor Gail Ash Essential recreational activities defined by the governor's order include fishing, boating, hiking and cycling. All events and programs at city facilities are canceled until May 11, subject to changes as previously announced. City services continue online or by phone whenever possible. Utility bills can be paid online; if necessary, checks (no cash) can be dropped in the opening on the south side of city hall, 685 W. Montrose St. Permits can be submitted online. Alternatively, paper applications can be dropped off in the bin on the south side of city hall. The inspections are carried out by photo and video submissions. Requests for registrations and requests from other office workers are processed online. City's main line of 352-394-4081 is answered from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday to Friday, as usual. In Clermont, 23 residents have tested positive as in the latest report from the Florida Department of Health, although it's not clear how many of them are in the city limits versus personalized with a Clermont zip code. Eighty-two people in Lake County are reported to have the disease, including 75 residents and seven non-residents; Two have died and 14 have been hospitalized. Four percent of the country's cases are in Florida, and 25 percent of the world's cases are in the United States. Cases exceeded a million worldwide this week. Older adults and people who have serious underlying chronic medical conditions like heart or lung disease or diabetes appear to be at higher risk of developing more serious complications from COVID-19 disease, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Based on what is currently known about this virus, spreading from person to person occurs most frequently among close contacts (within about 6 feet) via respiratory droplets, according to the CDC. When people are going to engage in essential services and activities, social distance walking should be practiced to increase the space between people and reduce the frequency of contact between them. It is a dynamic and changing situation. COVID-19 is an emerging respiratory disease, and there is more to learn about its transmission, clinical course and those populations at increased risk of disease and complications, according to the CDC. Everyone can do their part to help plan, prepare and respond to this new threat to public health. The latest updates on COVID-19 can be found at www.cdc.gov/coronavirus. Updates, often often often messages and resources are sent to the city's COVID-19 web page, www.ClermontFL.gov/coronavirus. Facebook page, www.Facebook.com/CityOfClermont and Nextdoor page. This press release can be viewed online at . City of Clermont declares local state of emergency, closes city buildings in response (COVID-19) City Services Available Online and by phone CLERMONT (March 17, 2020) - The city of Clermont has declared a local state of emergency due to coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19). Clermont Mayor Gail Ash signed the decision today because of the serious health threat that COVID-19 poses to Clermont residents, visitors and the community. The City Council unanimously approved the declaration today at an emergency council meeting of the city council hall. The city's decision followed Lake County's emergency proclamation on March 16. We are taking all possible measures to ensure that the city of Clermont slows the spread of coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, Ash said. Now is the time for our citizens to practice social distancing and limit their time in public, especially to protect the most vulnerable - the elderly and those with chronic illness. The city also announced today that it is closing all city buildings and selected parks from March 18 until March 30. The parks that will close are Bishop, Hancock, Lake Fields, Lake Hiawatha, McKinney, Palatalkaha and West. In addition, all events at city facilities are canceled until May 11 (eight weeks), as recommended by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. These dates can be changed. City services will continue to be available by phone at 352-394-4081 and online at www.ClermontFL.gov when possible. The World Health Organisation declared a public health crisis of international interest and has rated the threat posed by COVID-19 as very high. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention declared COVID-19 as a high potential threat to public health high in the United States and globally, Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis issued an executive order on March 1 declaring that appropriate measures are needed to control the spread of COVID-19 and instructed that a Public Health Emergency be declared in the state. These formal measures ensure that the state of Florida, Lake County and the City of Clermont can take all necessary prudent measures to ensure the health, safety and well-being of the community. The City of Clermont has closely monitored COVID-19 and has been in regular communication with state and local agencies. City of Clermont Cancels City Events and Programs to Prevent The Spread of Coronavirus (COVID-19) CLERMONT (March 12, 2020) - Today, the city of Clermont announced that it is canceling all city-run events and programs through the end of March as a preventive measure against the spread of coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19). Cancelled March city events include Friday Night at the Black Box, Clermont Cycle & Seek, Hotel Coffee with the mayor and movies under the stars. Programs include all senior activities, open gym, recreational programs at the Clermont Arts and Recreation Center and more. The Kehlor Building and Champions Splash Park will be closed from March 13. Keep an eye out for future updates and visit www.ClermontFL.gov the latest information. The City of Clermont is taking these measures out of an abundance of caution to help slow the spread of coronavirus (COVID-19). City Manager Darren Gray said. This is for the safety and well-being of our residents, staff and the community, and especially to protect those who are most vulnerable - the elderly and those with chronic illness. For these reasons, the city also is encouraging people to use its online services whenever possible, as opposed to getting into city facilities, such as for utility billing payments, development services and clerk office requests. The city offers a full refund upon request for city-run events and programs until further notice. Private event tenants who choose to cancel their city facility rentals will be offered a credit that will be good through the city's fiscal year ending September 30, 2020. The announcement comes on the heels of Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis' recommendation today that all mass gatherings be postponed. For most people, the immediate risk of being exposed to the virus is believed to be low, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). There is no widespread circulation in most communities in the United States, the CDC said. Older adults and people who have serious underlying chronic medical conditions like heart or lung disease or diabetes appear to be at higher risk of developing more serious complications from COVID-19 disease, according to the CDC. People who are at higher risk are encouraged to avoid crowds as much as possible, according to the CDC. Based on what is currently known about this virus, spreading from person to person occurs most frequently among close contacts (within about 6 feet) via respiratory droplets, according to the CDC. Social distance strategies increase space between people and reduce the frequency of contact between them to reduce the risk of spreading the disease. It is a dynamic and changing situation. COVID-19 is an emerging respiratory disease, and there is more to learn about its transmission, clinical course and those populations at increased risk of disease and complications, according to the CDC. Everyone can do their part to help plan, prepare and respond to this new threat to public health. The latest updates on COVID-19 can be found at www.cdc.gov/coronavirus. See the March 6 message from Mayor Gail Ash on preventive measures, resources and city measures, as well as a shareable flyer on Coronavirus: A message from City of Clermont Mayor Gail Ash CLERMONT (March 6, 2020) - There are no confirmed cases of coronavirus (COVID-19) in Clermont. The city of Clermont is committed to your health and safety and takes all potential threats seriously. Our focus, at this point, is on preventive measures, as outlined by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC): Wash hands often with soap and hot water for at least 20 seconds; If this is not available, use alcohol-based hand sanitizer. Dry hands with disposable paper towels or air dryers (not cloth towels). Avoid touching the eyes, nose and mouth with unwashed hands. Avoid close contact with sick people. Stay home when you're sick. Cough or sneeze into an elbow or use a tissue and put it immediately in the trash. Clean and disinfect frequently touched objects and surfaces. Face masks are not necessary for the public. They are needed by health care professionals and those who are sick. Some people may have a higher risk of serious illness, such as older adults and people with chronic medical conditions. We encourage you to follow the CDC's travel information and let your supervisor know if you have recently returned from any of the identified countries. The most reliable source of information for coronavirus is available on www.cdc.gov/coronavirus. Visit the site frequently for the latest updates. The Florida Department of Health has set up a coronavirus hotline at 1-866-779-6121 and email COVID-19@flhealth.gov. The city has taken several precautions and made thorough preparations, such as increasing cleaning schedules, installing additional hand disinfectant dispensers and informing our contractors not to send sick staff to city facilities. We are in frequent and close communication with county, state and national authorities and will continue to closely monitor the situation. As always, be careful with possible phishing scams and of those seeking to take advantage of this. Thanks for doing your part to help prevent the spread of disease. --Mayor Gail L.
