Inside the area there are currently 411 sessions a week in 155 locations. Mutual support groups (also known as self-helper groups) are an important part of abstaining from alcohol and other medications not only for people who are recovering, but also for family members. Being in groups helps create a long recovery in life by learning new skills and strategies, as well as developing relationships with others in the recovery community who are committed to sober living. ASAP hosts on-site support groups. ASAP provides space for these meetings at our facility:Tuesday 7:00 PM Narcotics Anonymous (NA) and Nar Anon (concurrent but separate sessions) Thursday 7:00 PM Smart RecoveryIn Additionally, participants in the TRIP program attend a weekly alcoholic anonymous meeting (AA) during their treatment hours. Teens in the TRIP program are required to attend outside support group meetings to complete the program. Teenagers are more likely to benefit from attending the meeting if other young people attend. For a full list of support group meetings, visit websites for NA, AA, Smart Recovery, and Festive Recovery.
