Merit badge books pdf

The first table below shows the latest copyright/review dates for each of the current merit badge brochures and the date of the last change to the requirements for each badge. It also contains the current BSA publication numbers and current SKUs for each booklet. The table also includes the dates of the Merit Badge Library list in the inner back cover of the current Scouts BSA Requirements book. We've also included some other progress publications at the top of the table. A larger list can be found by clicking here. The second set of tables are lists of merit badges, arranged in chronological order by date of the last revision to the booklet and date of the last revision of the requirements (from the most recent to the oldest). When the content has been updated in a merit badge booklet, BSA no longer changes the publication number from 33123 to 33123A, 33123B, etc. to indicate a new edition. BSA now keeps the publication number constant, but assigns a new stock keeping unit (SKU) to the booklet. The publication number appears in the copyright statement near the front of the book and under the UPC code on the back cover. The SKU appears on the back cover, above the UPC code, and is used as an item number to sort from Scoutshop.org. In some cases, the publication number and SKU are the same, because no revisions have been made since the brochure was first published. All merit badge brochures were reprinted, with new release issues, on August 1, 2008. In many of them, the only changes at that time were adding color to the content and covers of the booklet, while others had major or minor changes to the text and/or requirements. As indicated in the Merit Badge Library list in the current Scouts BSA Requirements booklet, there is only one merit badge with a booklet with a copyright date prior to 2008 - Surveying. For that badge 2, the old and new brochures are interchangeable, with the only difference is the color illustrations. So, in general, with that exception, Scouts should no longer use old black-and-white pamphlets. As new brochures are released, when they contain new requirements, scouts have the option to start with the new requirements as soon as the brochures are issued, or they can start working using the old requirements until the next edition of the BSA scout requirements is issued. If a Scout starts working after issuing a new edition of the Scout BSA Requirements, they must use the new requirements. In any case, once a boy starts with a set of requirements he can to use them until you complete your badge or turn 18. If it has started using the old requirements, it also has the option to switch to the new requirements (which could mean in some cases starting over). As long as it meets all the requirements (old or new) it has earn the badge. However, it cannot use, for example, the old requirements 1, 3 and 5 and the new requirements 2, 4 and 6-8. If you find a booklet with a later publication or copyright date or more shares (SKUs) than we have listed below, write to us, with the name of the merit badge, BSA publication and inventory numbers (SKUs) (e.g. 35859 - 610461) and copyright date. (If it only says Copyright 2005, 2015 Printing, it just means it's a new print without text changes. This category included most books reprinted in the new color format in August 2008.) If the brochure has also reviewed the requirements, a copy of these requirements would be appreciated so that you can update this site. The requirements review dates in the following tables reflect the year in which revisions first appear in scout BSA requirements, which is often the year after the requirements are reviewed appear in a new edition of the Merit Badge booklet. . To our knowledge, there is nowhere on the web where you can legally find free full copies of merit badge brochures published by BSA (with the exception of the four 2010 historical badges that were only available as free PDFs). The content of all brochures is copyrighted by BSA and uses the proceeds from the sale of the brochures to cover the cost of their periodic review. If you find an online copy in PDF format, it has been scanned and published illegally. However, many of the merit badge brochures and a number of other BSA manuals and guides are available for purchase as Kindle books, through Amazon.com. And, at one point, BSA began selling Digital Interactive merit badge brochures through Scoutshop.org. However, these digital interactive versions are no longer available. Always check the current edition of Scouts BSA Requirements, or this site, when you start a merit badge, to make sure you have the most up-to-date requirements, as they may have changed since the booklet was printed. Landscape architecture and architecture, which are separate merit badges, with separate requirements, are now covered in a single booklet: architecture and landscape architecture. Before 2008, there were separate pamphlets for each badge. Music and bugling, while separate merit badges, with separate requirements, are also covered in a booklet: Music and Bugling. Key for the colors used in the following tables: Green Text = Recent change to the booklet, requirements, or new name of the merit badge Information about the current requirements in the following tables reflects the requirements issued until January 1, 2020. Information on current publication dates is based on the list of merit badges in the 2020 Scouts BSA Requirements booklet. The SKU numbers are based on the list on Scoutshop.org as of March 27, 2020 or previous information when the brochures were not listed on Scoutshop.org at that time (probably because they were of actions or new editions were in preparation.) The availability of kindle editions shown below is based on the announcement on Amazon.com on April 23, 2020 and updated as indicated in the BRIAN ON SCOUTING blog article as reviewed on May 13, 2020. Spanish versions of all 17 Eagle Required merit badges were released a number of years ago, but only a few are still listed on Scoutshop.org. At the moment it is not known to the USSSP if the others (whose SKU numbers are shown in RED italics). The copyright dates of the brochure listed have NOT been verified and are not current, due to travel restrictions caused by the Covid-19 pandemic. Please note that the dates and numbers of SKU shown on web pages with current requirements are NOT updated as often as the following list. Then the list on this page should be used when the numbers of SKUs differ. Merit Badge booklets (in paper format, Kindle or Interactive Digital) are now $4.99 each. However, if you order from the National Supply Service, keep in mind that they are obliged to charge sales tax unless you send a VAT exemption form with your order, and for print versions there is a shipping/handling/shipping cost of $7.50 for orders up to $50.00 (1-10 brochures), $9.95 for orders between $50.00 (1-10 pamphlets), $9.95 for orders between $50.00 1 50.01 and $100.00 (11am-8pm brochures), $13.50 for orders between $100.01 and $150.00 (21-30 pamphlets), $18.00 for orders between $150.01 and $200.00 (31-40 pamphlets) and $2 2.50 for those who have more than $200.00 (41 or more pamphlets), so ordering small quantities this way can be VERY expensive on a unit cost basis unless you order other items at once. International shipping costs range from $25.00 to $62.50. The toll-free number to order through the BSA national procurement division is 1-800-323-0732, or you can order online at .
