Murrieta public library renew

Page 2 Due to the historically low attendance at the library during the holiday season, the Murrieta Public Library announced the following closures in December and January: -Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, 24, 25 and 26 December 2012; —Monday, 31 December 2012; and —Tuesday and Wednesday, 1 and 2 January 2013. Although the library building will close, the library's website is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week and is full of great resources for research, formats and a wealth of other information, said Library Director Loretta McKinney. Patrons can access their personal apology information, refresh their books and place requests for new books at any time of the day or night, McKinney said. Murrieta Public Library is located in 8 city square (Adams Avenue and Kalmia Street). For more information, call 951-304-BOOK (2665) or visit the Library's website at Murrietalibrary.info. A news release submitted by Murrieta Public Library I thought I would never get it, Liz Uihlein, an outspoken critic of COVID-19 restrictions, told Uline officials. Well, Trump took it. You can place a hold on most items in the library system so that when this item is returned, it is sent to the library of your choice for receipt. Follow these easy steps to place a handle on an item and send it for you: 1. From the Library home page, select List from the links at the top of our homepage. 2. Search for the item you're looking for from the author, title, topic, or keyword (the keyword is the default). 3. If the item belongs to the library system, the next page will have either a single item or a list of items displayed. If it's a single item, you'll see a Keep Position link in the separate column to the left of the screen. See that column on the left? If so, go to step 5 below. If not, then continue to Step 4. 4. From the list of items, swipe down the list to see if what you are looking for is there. When you find it, click the Place Hold link. Continue to Step 6. 5. Click the Place Hold link, and when the login page appears, enter your library card number without spaces between the numbers (this number appears just below the barcode on your library card) and your PIN (this is usually the last four digits of your phone number). After entering your library card number and PIN, click LOGIN. 6. When the Submit Hold screen appears, select the library from the drop-down menu, and then click SUBMIT. 7. The next screen will tell you if the handle has been successfully mounted. You'll receive notification either by email, mail, or phone when the item is available for pickup in the library you specified. 8. If the retention attempt was not successful, there may be several reasons why -- the item you tried to request could not be requested (a reference book, for example), you may have the maximum on your card or your library card may have expired. Contact your local library for further assistance. Note: If the screen tells you that retention was not successfully placed, there may be several reasons, including that the item cannot be held or that your card has been blocked for some reason. If you have any questions, call any branch library for help.
