1 Massachusetts to California 5 Moves $1191 Experience Moving car Anant Singhal Posted this review on Fox Auto Transport Review made Live: 6/13/2020 3:16:00 We moved our car from VA to LA. Apparently all these companies are brokers. They charge their fee and the driver fee is separate. In our case we were offered $725 initially. We were told it could be low or high. If high we will be told how high will it go. There were 2 weeks before the actual delivery window when the order was placed. When they called us, they said they don't get any driver charging less than $800, making the total $1000. When asked why they said we don't have time left. We had given 2 weeks for them to look for a driver when they actually started looking for a driver the week of delivery. The driver was good and the car was delivered safely, but the price experience was not very satisfactory. It looks like they can quote a low ball number and then end up paying a higher price. Since we didn't have time left, we had to accept the price. If they wanted to do a good job they could have started to see the day the order was placed instead of waiting a week and we end up paying the extra $300. I think that's the way this business runs, legally, but the practice is not transparent. When moving every dollar counter moving company should help the customer not rather put us in one place. ► Latest Reviews Advanced Search and Tools Experience moving the car Fox Auto Transport Review by anant singhal on 6/13/2020 3:16 PM ON Fox Auto Transport We moved our car from VA to LA. My car was transported for 4 days. Surprising factor is that they kept informing me once for 4 hours about my vehicle. Really good customer service! This kind of service really can't be seen with other shipments. (more) Posted by: Renee Date: 07/02/10 Rating: Thumbs Up/Down: Subject: Review: I was very impressed. I spent a lot of time researching different companies, checking their BBB ratings. Chris Gilligan on Fox was huge. Every time I contacted him with a question, he answered correctly away. He planned a transport for us within hours of the publication of our contract, and the cost never changed from what was quoted. No problems at all! Unfortunately, the carrier, CTC Auto Senders were not so good. I shipped a lot of cars and Fox was by far the most worried shipping broker that I have ever used. I wouldn't waver to use them again. Did you get emails, texts and calls from Fox Auto Transport? Have they told you that they have a truck for you all set up? How did it happen? Did they happen to have a truck waiting for your call? No! They responded to you quoting the request in a very fraudulent way. They put your vehicle on the national dispatch board at a high price (so they could quickly call you and say they have a truck). What an impostor. They don't take care of you. They only take care of themselves. I suppose a broker is to find the best possible price for you. This lazy a's broker will send the first truck that accepts their high bid. DON'T FALL FOR IT. Do you know what SEO is? Search engine optimization! You pay money and you get fake positive reviews wherever you need them. More scams! This company is just the poster boy for lazy young Americans who never always cut corners and look for the easy way out of any situation. Drop them. Never trust them. Move on. You'll be glad you did. Did.
