Alpha Force Testo Quality Ingredients Alpha Force Testo lists its main ingredients on the website, many of which have been shown to promote testosterone production and support processes that maintain overall health and performance. Tongkat Ali root is included in many enhancement supplements and comes highly recommended by our team of men's health experts. It has been shown to reduce cortisol levels and help the body better manage stress. It has been used for generations in traditional medicine as a natural aphrodisiac and fertility aid. The remedial properties of antioxidant-rich lycopene can help prevent cell degradation and reduce inflammation. Saw Palmetto has been shown to help regulate and maintain optimal hormonal balance. Fenugreek is also rich in vitamins and minerals and is often used to treat a number of conditions, including male impotence. It is also used for its anti-inflammatory properties. Many of these ingredients have proven effective, however, there are some concerns about the formula. Astaxanthin, one of the main active ingredients of the formula, is included to reduce DHT and estrogen in the system. Some believe that limiting DHT will increase testosterone levels, but the effects of DHT on the natural production of testosterone are somewhat misunderstood. It is true testosterone levels will increase, however, the excess testosterone will eventually turn into estrogen, rather than DHT. A 1:1 ratio of DHT to testosterone is the key to optimal hormonal balance. The delicate balance ingredients requires precise quantities. Too much can be harmful, and too little can help at all. Dosages are not provided, however, so it is impossible for consumers to tell whether the supplement will provide optimal potency of beneficial ingredients. The lack of transparency of the proprietary mixture only creates distrust in the manufacturer and skepticism about the product. All these concerns raise the quality and supplement. Follow this link for a comprehensive list of the most effective male enhancement products. The price and quality of Alpha Power Testo Alpha Power Testo is very expensive compared to other male enhancement products containing similar ingredients. The normal cost of the product is $89.41, but the price is not clearly advertised on the product page. It appears only when the order is completed. The product is also available through a test. According to their trial terms, a credit card must be provided for shipping costs of $4.95. Once the trial is over after an 18-day period (3-5 days shipping time and about 14 days for the trial period), the full cost of the $89.41 product will be charged to the credit card on file. It is very important to read the small letters to avoid unwanted charges, as customers also automatically sign up for the replenishment service until it is cancelled. The replenishment service is not required for a straight purchase, although it is offered. Consumers are not stocked with the dosage amounts of each beneficial ingredient, however, so the price remains unclear. Alpha Force Testo Company The listed manufacturer of Alpha Force Testo is Alpha Force, based in Canada. Phone: (855) 904-9282 Address: Alpha Power PO Box 500 North York, ON M3J 0J8 Email: No direct email address or contact form. There is also a U.S. address listed, but it is a fulfillment center, not a real business address. The manufacturer clearly does not want to be detected or contacted. After further investigation, our team of reviewers found buried in the Privacy Policy a contact address belonging to a company called Advanced RX Holdings, Inc. Public records show that the company failed to pay the annual corporate fee to remain active. The product is still available, however, so most likely the corporate entity is now doing business under another name. This is the typical cycle of online supplement companies with similar non-opaque business practices. There are countless complaints about the company on the Better Business Bureau website and similar consumer protection websites. Many customers say that their marketing practices are very misleading and immoral. In addition, the main website makes many claims, but does not offer many explanations about the science behind their supplement. There are links to studies on the efficacy of active ingredients, no clinical data on the proprietary type are provided. Their business ethic and vague product information are relevant, but what consumers really want to know is whether the product works. Fortunately, there are online reviews available, allowing consumers to make informed decisions. My grandmother uses more intense supplements. The only thing this product enhanced was my regret about buying it. I feel a little more energy and focus on the gym after using the bottle. They already sent me and charged me for a second bottle. I'll use it, but I don't think I'll buy more. These trials... I always know their terms and I operate according to them, but the problem is not their terms. It's that they never work. The effects of any male enhancement supplement depend on individual body type, allergies, appropriate dose, and many other contributing factors. It is important to know this when researching supplements based on customer opinions. Click here to see which male enhancement product our expert team rated as the most effective. Conclusion - Did Alpha Force Testo Work? Alpha Testo Strength has been formulated to promote the natural production of testosterone and maintain an optimal hormonal balance. The product claims to increase free testosterone levels, speed recovery time, and quickly build lean muscle. The supplement contains many quality ingredients that seem to enhance performance and libido, and can also help burn unwanted fat, but does not disclose the dosage amounts contained in the proprietary blend. Transparency is completely absent from the supplement and its manufacturer, and for these reasons, our team of men's health judges cannot recommend this product. Our expert judges have tested and compared many male enhancement products and agree: Virienz is the best overall. The safe, all natural ingredients in Virienz have been shown to enhance testosterone, increase circulation to muscles, and improve endurance.
