the slightest whisper through the loudest screams and have all the sound pass clear, amplified and err due to the response range from 20-20,000Hz. Vocalists love the extremely natural vocal sound from the AT3035 condenser microphone, but the microphone is also suitable for amplifying a range of instruments including an acoustic guitar. You won't be limited in the range of music you can record and perform with high-quality err sound thanks to the wide overall dynamic range of the AT3035 136 dB condenser microphone. Use this microphone's extended bass range to bring sharp and clear bass tones from acoustic bass or piano. Soar with bright, erroneous high tones to soprano singing or to flute with this microphone. Drummers, scoalers and other heavy batsmen will appreciate the high maximum microphone entry level of 148 dB, which can be extended to 158 dB using a 10 dB washer. Without a high level of maximum microphone input, the loud sound will have a faded quality that does not bring all the full, rich tones of music. Amplify dynamic acoustic guitar music with a large pickup truck and clarity of both individual notes and chords for rich and complete guitar sound that will catch all the inneracies of the player's technique. The actual noise generated by the microphone itself is extremely low, which makes it a good choice for recording in modern studios with contemporary electronics. The microphone uses a standard 3-pin XLRM Integral connector that provides all the phantom power needed to power the microphone and is compatible with standard pre-amplifying systems. The robust body work is silver and permanently designed for road pitfalls. Quality sound requires quality recording of the device. Make sure that the highest, lowest, softest and loudest tones of your sound are recorded with studio-quality clarity using the AT3035 Condenser Cable Professional Microphone.0042005101931, 4961310087630Internal Shock Mount, OMNI-OMNI Directional, Noise CancellationProfessional Compatibility Compatibility
