Thank you, we'll look into it. To our esteemed friends, family and customers, we want to take the time and assure them that we will do everything we can to ensure the safety of our employees, suppliers, resellers and customers during the COVID-19 pandemic. The company has taken the necessary steps and the priority is to follow the guidelines of both local and international administrations with regard to safety-related guidelines. As you know, agriculture is an essential service, and farmers continue to plant crops, harvest and livestock feed. despite the current pandemic. This is one of the many reasons why we have made it a priority to continue delivering parts and supporting our resellers and customers. In fact, all Farm King staff, including territory managers and aftermarket representatives, have been given to support you at every stage in these challenging times. We would like to take this opportunity to wish you all the best and remind you that we are at your service to help you in any way we can. Marat Nogerov President, Buhler Industries
