Redwood County Jail In Custody 12-27-2020 15:38 You cannot use our service or the information provided to make decisions about consumer credit, employment, insurance, tenant screening or any other purpose that would require FCRA compliance. Understand how difficult it is for families to stay away from their inmate and it is important to familiarize yourself with the base of the inmates visit before planning a visit as each facility has specific rules that you need to follow. All visitors must be pre-approved; your inmate must put you on the pre-approved visit list in order to visit them which is subsequently reviewed by the correctional facility. When considering approval, correctional structures examine many factors, since all formalities must be completed. Many facilities limit the number of visitors, so inmates need to narrow down the list of potential visitors. All correctional structures have their own set of rules that you need to follow. You're expected to follow prison rules, no matter how arbitrary they may seem when you visit. The inmate you plan to visit should be able to advise you on the visiting time schedule for that prison, however it's always a good idea to call the prison first to ensure the visit is allowed and whether potential visitors are approved or not. After the visitor has been approved by the correctional structure, he must check with his inmate on which days he is allowed to visit. All prisoners are searched before and after any visit for security reasons. Families visiting their inmates must comply with the dress code of the particular prison otherwise they may be refused the visit. All visitors are required to present a valid photo ID issued by the government. Pigeonly has also introduced a video visit to connect families and inmates when it becomes difficult for them to visit, you must first schedule a visit and have it approved by your inmate's facility, signing up for the pigeonly video visit your inmate will be just a click away. Before visiting your inmate check all the rules you need to follow. You can find an inmate at the Redwood County Jail, using pigeonly inmate search if you need help before visiting. Each facility requires their rules to be followed according to local ordinances. Typically, for a given institution you want to make sure you wear appropriate clothing. Make sure your clothes aren't too tight. Different states may have different rules about clothing. For information on what to wear in be sure to check their appropriate state laws for the Minnesota Department of Corrections on your state's official website.
