This is one of my very favorite quotes in the series: "It is our choices, Harry, that show us what we truly are, far more than our abilities. She failed. I could go on to talk about the awesome magic system, the perfectly written characters and the brilliance of the plots of each individual book, but to do so would be to do an injustice to the wonder of the writing. British Library. But you've read the first book, maybe even the second, and cannot comprehend how someone would label these books as their favorite books, especially an adult? Then I had kids. But Rowling's storytelling is above my own reproach. When I read this series I laugh out loud, gasp in terror, sputter in anger, sigh with romance, cry in sadness, and smile with joy. In fact, the world Rowling creates in Harry Potter is so real that I often find myself - and this is scary to admit - believing I can do magic. All created by Rowling, all aspects of a realistic world, of life.
